Thanks so much for joining us on the Twelve Days of Knitmas Mystery Knit-Along!

Beginning December 26th, you'll receive one clue each day for twelve days. The clues will be added to your Ravelry library. Sign up for our email list and you'll get the clues right in your inbox. Email subscribers will get added bonuses, including some delicious cocktail recipes from our collection, so sign up now!

While the pattern will remain a mystery until December 26th, here's what you need to know to get ready:

Day Zero

Sizes: 8" x 108" (24" x 108")/ 20.5cm x 275cm (61cm x 275cm), or length as desired.

Needles: US 5/ 3.75mm or size to obtain gauge in SS, and US 6/ 4.0cm or size to obtain gauge in colorwork.

*It is recommended to change needle sizes if you are new to colorwork (the pattern is simple, don't worry!) or have tighter stitches when knitting colorwork.

Gauge: 26 stitches and 36 rows = 4"/ 10cm over Stockinette stitch and over colorwork.

Yarn: fingering weight in four colors; 117 yards/ 107 meters (350 yards/ 321 meters) of each color.

Notions: stitch markers, tapestry needle.

Samples knit in: Nomadic Knits Twelve Days of Knitmas 2021 kits in Team Melissa and Team Becky.

Can you help me choose colorway combinations?

Sure! We've curated two kits on our website: Team Becky and Team Melissa.

For stash divers, here's a guide for creating your own combination:

Color 1: a bold solid/ semi-solid color.

Color 2: a speckled colorway - best if the speckles include bits of Colors 1, 3, and 4.

Color 3: another solid/ semi-solid color, with or without some more speckles.

Color 4: a soft neutral color.

All colorways should be in similar weight (fingering), but let's mix up those bases! Merino, merino-nylon, merino-nylon-cashmere, single ply, two ply, four ply, bring it all!

Please remember - this is just knitting and there are no hard and fast rules for color selections. Choose what makes your heart happy.

Don't be intimidated by the long list of abbreviations; we won't be using all of them.

We hope you'll join our Facebook group to knit along with us! We'll be having tons of fun and giving away awesome prizes.

Day One - Lumps of coal...

This stitch pattern was borrowed from the Lumpy Hat and Socks which will be introduced in issue eleven : head over heels. It's a variable ribbing that changes from 1x1 to 2x2, with the knits and purls shifting their positions every fourth row. There's a gentle rhythm that emanates from my fingers as I knit ribbing, and changing this up every few rows keeps my mind engaged enough to be interesting, but not too much that I can't socialize with my lingering Christmas guests or catch up on my favorite shows.

Notes: The pattern directions are written as: scarf (shawl). For example, CO 100 (300) means the scarf knitters CO 100 and the shawl knitters CO 300. This notation will be used throughout the pattern.

Each section of the pattern will include the approximate weight (in grams) used for that section. We did this to help you determine how much wiggle room you have for modifying the pattern if you decide to add length, skip a day, sub in colors, etc.

The edges of the scarf and shawl are worked in faux i-cord - slipping the last 3 sts with the yarn in front every row - to create a clean border. Join the next color before slipping the last 3 sts of the row before by laying the yarn between the needles with the tail sticking out the RS of the work. Don't stress if you haven't done it before; it's easy!

Most of all, have fun!

It's cast-on day!

Directions

Using C1 and gauge needles (the smaller ones), cast on 100 (300) sts using the cable cast-on or your favorite not-very-stretchy CO.

Setup Row (WS): k2tog x 3, [k2tog, p2tog] to last 6 sts, k2tog x 3. 50 (150) sts.

Note: Place a removable stitch marker (progress keeper) on one of the first few stitches in the next row to mark the RS. Use it to keep track of your daily progress by moving it to your daily starting row, if you wish.

Refer to written directions or chart below.

Row 1 (RS): k3, work Row 1 of Lumpy Stitch pattern to last 3 sts, sl 3 wyif.

Row 2 (WS): k3, work next row of Lumpy Stitch pattern to last 3 sts, sl 3 wyif.

Work in established pattern of Row 2, working the next row of Lumpy Stitch pattern with faux i-cord edging, until you have worked Rows 1 - 16 twice and then Rows 1 - 8 once more. Cut C1.

Using C2:

Maintaining edge pattern, work Lumpy Stitch Rows 9 & 10. Cut C2.

Using C3:

Maintaining edge pattern, work Lumpy Stitch Rows 11 - 16, then Rows 1 - 8. Cut C3.

C2 - 0.5 (1.5) grams

C3 - 3 (8.5) grams

C4 - 0 grams

Day Two...

Notes: Now we're going to add a few garter stitches to each edge to keep the scarf (shawl) from rolling at the edges. When directed to carry a color, you can hide it inside the i-cord edging as follows: after turning your work to the RS, pass the working yarn under the carried color then knit your first 3 sts and again pass the working yarn under the carried yarn. This technique tucks it away inside the i-cord as you go.

[k1, p1] - any time you see brackets [] around a set of directions, it means you will repeat those directions.

Day Three - The best presents come in Little Boxes...

This stitch pattern may appear familiar from the Don't Be A Square cowl from issue nine : iowa / nebraska, and you'll see it again in issue eleven : head over heels in a collection of socks, hat, and coozie called Little Boxes.

Notes: This section is stranded colorwork, often called Fair Isle. You will be working with two colors / two strands of yarn on each row of colorwork. As you work across the row, loosely carry the color you are not working on the WS of the work. When knitting a RS row, these strands will be in the back; when knitting a WS row, the strands will be in the front. To keep your tension even, avoid tugging on the carried yarn when you change colors.

Directions for this section are written out, and a chart is included for your reference. The chart does not have a color key because you will be working through it with multiple color combinations. The color changes are described in the written directions.

For the neatest appearance on the WS, be consistent with which strand is on top and bottom. The strand on the bottom will appear slightly more prominent in the colorwork, so I typically choose the top strand for the background color. For example, in the first colorwork row below, carry the C2 strand below the C3 strand as you work across the row. When you finish working a colorwork row, just drop the strand to the WS; it will be right where you need it to work the next row.

This section uses all four colorways. If your colorways don't give enough contrast to work all of the combinations, feel free to skip those that don't, working a shorter section.

We recommend changing needle sizes at each colorwork section, specifically going up in size by 1 increment (for example, if you've been knitting with a US 5/ 3.75mm, go up to a US 6/ 4.0mm); the pattern will direct you when to do it.

If this is your first foray into colorwork, know that we're incredibly proud of you!

Day Four - Stripes

Today is an easy day, filled with simple Stockinette stitch worked in stripes. The striped pattern was inspired by Sierra Morningstar's Migration cardigan from issue nine : iowa / nebraska.

Day Five - Tumbleweed Lace

This beautiful lace pattern was borrowed from Rose Beck's Tumbleweed sweater from issue ten : texas. The delicate design was used at the hem of the sweater as a lovely accent, and it's stacked here to create a completely different look. If you love it and are working with full skeins of yarn, keep knitting more repeats! If you find yourself struggling with the lace, skip it and work a different stitch pattern with C4.

Note: Directions inside of brackets [] are also shown in the chart.

Hint: place marker after each repeat in Row 1 to make the chart easier to follow.

Day Six - Tiny Bobbles of Champagne

This is another stitch pattern that you'll see in issue eleven : head over heels. It's a fun mixture of twisted ribbing and tiny bobbles. If twisted ribbing isn't your jam, use regular ribbing instead.

It's New Year's Eve - let's celebrate!

Special Stitches:

- bobble: kfbfb into next st (k into the front and back of the next st, then knit into the front and back of the st once more). 4 sts.
- Turn and purl the 4 sts;
- Turn and knit the 4 sts;
- Pass the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th sts on the RN over the first st and off the N. 1 st.
- Tug the yarn to make sure the bobble pops out to the front, then work the next st snugly.

* is used to denote a long repeat. It appears just above the First Bobble Row and again at the end of the directions. When you reach the end, go back to the first * and work from that point through the directions again, as directed.

Note: brackets followed by x 7 (27) indicates the number of times to repeat the brackets for the scarf (shawl).

Directions

Using C2:

- Row 1 (RS): k5, sm, k to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.
- Row 2 (WS): k5, sm, k5, [ptbl, k4] to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.
- Row 3 (RS): k5, sm, [p4, ktbl] x 7 (27), p5, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.

Work Rows 2 & 3 two more times, then work Row 2 once.

Follow the written directions below, referring to the chart if desired. The chart does not include the edge stitches outside of the markers.

First Bobble Row - Chart Row 1 (RS): k5, sm, [p4, bobble, p4, ktbl] x 3 (13), p4, bobble, p5, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.

Work Rows 2 & 3 three times, then work Row 2 once.

Day 7 - Morse Code Intentions

Happy New Year, everyone!

Today is a great day to set your intentions for the year ahead. While so many things are outside of our control, it can be helpful to take a few minutes to think about our emotional needs. Self care is so important, especially these days when the world is a dumpster fire and we're all doing our best to survive without losing our minds.

Today's knit is simple, short, and poignant. What mindset do you want as you go into the year ahead? Use the prompts below to choose your words, or use the Morse code charts to create your own. Be creative - this is your chance to put your heart into your knitting. If you're planning to gift this shawl to a loved one, include a special message, just between you and them. You can use your favorite song lyrics, or a special quote from your favorite author. Whatever words speak to your heart. Maybe your heart wants you to put a hex on someone; we're not here to judge.

- I will start my days with _____.
- I will approach life with _____.
- When things get overwhelming, I will _____.

I created several charts with popular key words and intentions, and included a chart of the entire alphabet so you can make your own. The alphabet chart is read from right to left. Dots and dashes are separated by a single knit stitch, and letters are separated by two knit stitches.

Why Morse code? Throughout history, women (and some men) have used knitting as a form of espionage, working codes into their stitches to share valuable information such as troop positions and supply train routes. Women could also sit and knit in public for extended periods without drawing attention to themselves, making them ideal incognito spies.

Directions

The shawl has 140 sts between markers and can include several words per row. The scarf has only 40 sts between markers, so the word choices are more limited. Knit any extra stitches before and/or after your intentions in each row.

Using C1:

- Row 1 (RS): k5, sm, k to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.
- Row 2 (WS): k5, sm, k to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.

Work Rows 1 & 2 three more times. 8 rows of Garter stitch. Carry C1 inside the i-cord.

Using C4:

- Row 1: k5, sm, k to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.
- Row 2: k5, sm, p to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.
- Row 3: k5, sm, work your intention(s), knitting any extra sts to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.
- Row 4: k5, sm, p to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.

Repeat from * once.

Work additional affirmations as desired. If you are working with full skeins, feel free to mix up the colors as well; perhaps an affirmation in each colorway. Each affirmation uses 3 (9) grams of C1 and 1 (3) grams of C4. Cut C4 after your final affirmation.

Using C1:

- Row 1 (RS): k5, sm, k to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.
- Row 2 (WS): k5, sm, k to marker, sm, k2, sl 3 wyif.

Work Rows 1 & 2 three more times. 8 rows of Garter stitch. Cut C1.

Yarn used (as written, with two affirmations):

- C1 - 5 (14.5) grams
- C2 - 0 grams
- C3 - 0 grams
- C4 - 1.5 (5) grams

Day Eight - Amber Waves

Today's pattern is inspired by Kristen Jancuk's Amber Waves sweater from issue nine : iowa / nebraska. Kristen used a monochromatic palette by adding mohair to the charted stitches, creating a beautiful textured design. We're using all of our colorway combinations today to create colorwork waves on a background of Color 4.

Day Nine - Lonely Hearts

Did you knit along with us last Valentine's Day? We knitted a chunky Lonely Hearts hat using this subtle heart motif. Created with purl stitches on a background of Stockinette, the hearts are almost a mirage, disappearing at certain angles and popping up again in just the right light. Knit one heart or knit a row of them across the scarf (shawl). Directions are written for multiple hearts. We'll be running a Lonely Hearts KAL again this February with a brand new hat design, and we hope you'll join us!
